Biography

I am the campus recruiting representative for the NVA organization. We have a team of qualified veterinary professionals that can share industry insight, personal experiences, and offer career development opportunities and advice. We would love the opportunity to share knowledge and connect with Vet students at OSU.

About my Organization

We are a community of professionals, united by our love of animals, and committed to advancing the profession of veterinary medicine and animal care. Our General Practice and Specialty + ER hospitals provide care to animals around the world. We cherish the heart and individuality of our practices and work to ensure the local culture at each location continues to thrive.

Career Opportunities at NVA in Veterinary Medicine

We are a community of professionals, united by our love of animals, and committed to advancing the profession of veterinary medicine and animal care. Our General Practice and Specialty + ER hospitals provide care to animals around the world. We cherish the heart and individuality of our practices and work to ensure the local culture at each location continues to thrive. As we continue to grow, we always look for those who share a commitment and love of providing progressive and compassionate animal care. In our veterinary hospitals, we do not establish company-wide veterinary medical, surgical protocols, or a fixed formula. Instead, we rely on our capable, local veterinary teams to establish medical standards that meet the needs of their animal communities and clients.
